The was drawn up by Judge Whitman inded at a regular meeting it is ed that this rule must remain in force and be as binding on the Magistrates as if the hours were fixed by the bill amending the Charter and providing for a night session of the police court. It was said yesterday that probably the attention of the Magistrates would be called to the violation of their own rules and pointing out that the court must remain in session until 3 A. M. until the rule is rescinded properly Several of the Magistrates who do not sympathize with the effort that has been going on ever since the court was started to wreck it have expressed themselves as astonished at the action of the special meeting. Half a dozen of these Magistrates did not attend the meeting and none except those in the Tammany secret to do anything to defeat Whitman and help the bondsmen knew that the presented. orce and be as binding on the Magistrates presented.

Magistrate Breen first hinted at the project at the dinner given to Justice Zeller tan days ago. He denounced the night court and ridiculed Judge Whitman for making the court a reality. Those who knew of Magistrate Breen's enthusiastic support of the court last spring were somewhat surprised. On April 4 last Magistrate Breen put himself on record as to the night court in these words:

"The bill has my heartiest approval. The need of such a court is apparent to any New Yorker who has any knowledge of the city's life. One of the worst abuses I know is in connection with the professional bondsmen. A friend of mine who is inclined to be humorous the other evening asked me humorous the other evening asked me thought Byron had reference to these ows when he wrote hereditary bondsfellows when he wrote hereditary bondsmen.' They certainly are hereditary, but in this case we'll strike the blow. The night court will practically put them out of business. The night court will certainly be a body blow for any such combination as that spoken of between the desk sergeants and the professional bondsmen. Such a combination as that is a disgrace to the city, and since it is acknowledged even at Police Headquarters one can scarcely doubt its existence."

All through the Police Department it was whispered when the night court was estab-lished that a way would be found to beat it and that Judge Whitman would suffer for having put it in operation. The professional bondsmen have bonasted that when election time came around something would be doing. They said yesterday that the time had come. Whitman, they declared, would be beaten and then the night court would have to go. Until it was abolished the only thing that could be done for them was to shorten the hours, and it was said that Tammany had kept its word to allow them to get into business again. They said they had unlimbered and that the usual contributions had been sent to the Tammany chest.

It is because of the importunities of these bondsmen, it was said, that special word has been sent out all along the line by Tarmmany to make sure, if possible, of Whitman's defeat. The effect was to arouse the friends of Judge Whitman and yesterday many men went to his headquarrers to assure him that they wished to fight hard with him to defeat the professional bondsmen.

assure him that they wished to fight hard with him to defeat the professional bondsmen.

Judge Whitman refused to make any statement regarding the attack on him, but said that he thought that the night court could speak for itself. There have not been half a dozen nights since the court was opened that it has not been kept busy until 3 A. M. and after. To adjourn it at 1 A. M. would defeat in a large measure the purposes for which it was organized. The police and the bondsmen will'be enabled to make arrests of streetwalkers soon after midnight, knowing that these women cannot be arraigned in the night court, and the traffic in dirty money, which the court has stopped, will be resumed to a profitable extent.

Many well known men are sending assurances of support to Judge Whitman. He has received hundreds of these letters. One of those that came yesterday was from Magistrate Corrigan, a recent appointee of Mayor McClellan. He wrote:

"Although I have always been a Democrat I sincerely hope that you will be elected. I know from the many cases I tried before you while I was in the District Attorney's office that there is no one better qualified to be Judge of General Sessions I have learned from experience the importance of having fearless and able judges in the criminal courts."

Magistrate Cornell wrote: "No one doubts your fitness for the place. No other candiin the criminal courts."

Magistrate Cornell wrote: "No one doubts your fitness for the place. No other candidate has any record at the bar to justify his selection as a judge in the highest criminal court of the city. Every honest voter, irresective of party, should go to the polls and cast his vote for you if he does nothing else on election day."

Senator Saxe wrote: "The public is to be congratulated because of your nomination. Nowadays, since voters have learned to vote for individual candidates, I feel quite sure that you will receive that ex-to vote for individual candidates, I feel quite sure that you will receive that expression of confidence at the polls that evidences the desire of all good citizens to retain upon the bench those judges who are best qualified and thoroughly alive to their great duties and responsibilities to the people."

Judge Whitman's campaign managers, Robert C. Morris and John C. Clark, said yesterday that they could use contributions to advantage.

The Rechester club had not the lines of the Senses. Herreshoff had not given them and would not, so the Rochester club could not live up to the agreement. It was known, too, that the Senses was very close to the limit, and some said over the limit by 2 feet. The Canadians, however, decided to waive this point and let the Senses be veighed to give her displacement. She was weighed and the scales showed in 40 puinds, or 50 pounds more than Herreshoff had figured. This, however, was not enough to bring her in the class and the sail area had to be reduced to square feet.

EKENGREN VISITS YACHT CLUB. Secretary of Swedish Legation Asks Little About Cup Conditions.

A. Ekengren, the secretary of the Royal Swedish Legation, visited the New York Yacht Club yesterday and was received there by Secretary George Cormack. Mr. Eken-gren was surprised and annoyed that it had been published that he was to visit the club to find out something about the America's cup and said that he had not been authorize by the Royal Swedish Yacht Club to arrange cup and said that he had not been authorize by the Royal Swedish Yacht Club to arrange anything.

While he was there the Swedish Vice-Consut visited the club and the two inspected the house and were much interested in the models. The only mention of the America's cup during their visit was when they saw some models of yachts that had raced for the trophy. Neither asked for any information about the cup or the conditions governing it and the New York Yacht Club is as much in the dark about the plans of the Swedes as ever.

A cablegram from Sweden published yesterday said that the members of the Swedish Yacht Club felt hurt that the New York Yacht Club had not taken the trouble to enlighten them about the conditions that would govern a race and whether a challenge for a race with 70 footers would be accepted. The club is to hold a meeting to-morrow night and it is possible if nothing is heard by that time that the matter will be dropped.

Secretary Cormack said that the only inquiry that had been received from the Royal Swedish Yacht Club asked for information about the America's cup, and a copy of the deed of gift and a copy of the resolution passed at the last meeting had been sent. He knew nothing of their plans or what would come of all the talk.

Miss Bryce, Beverly Robinson and Paul Rainey Come to Grief at Meadow Brook. JERICHO, L. I., Oct. 19.—In this morning's run of the Meadow Brook Hounds Beverly Robinson, Miss Cornelia Bryce and Paul Rainey came croppers about three miles northeast of Jericho. Mr. Robinson took northeast of Jericho. Mr. Robinson took the lead for a jump, but his mount miscal-culated the distance and horse and rider came to the ground. Paul Rainey and Miss Bryce were so close behind that they were unable to pull out and both went down. Miss Bryce and her companions were badly shaken and did not finish, but they were not seriously hurt.

NOWLES BEATS PETERS FOR IN

Neither gave any advantage away on the next two and helves resulted. Both were on the twelfth green in 3 and Peters dropped his hall into the cup on a 5 foot try, which squared the match. They halved the thirteenth in brilliant 3s, each getting a long put. Knowles was in first, but Peters's nerves stood the test. A long put carned Knowles a c on the fourteenth, and, slthough he missed his drive, Peters had a 3. Halves aucceeded to the end, Peters had a 3. Halves aucceeded to the end, Peters had a 3. Halves aucceeded to the end, Peters had a 3. Halves aucceeded to the end, Peters having the most to do on the greens of the fiteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth holes and putting with great dash, while on the home hole he made the green from the sand trap and gained a half when Knowles missed his foot put for a 3. Setting out 1 up in the afternoon, Knowles doubled his lead at the second, 8 to 7, for Peters played it poorly through the green. As an atonement he laid an approach dead and took the 516 yard third in 3, but Knowles was 2 up again immediately, as Peters needed three puts on the next. Knowles had edged three puts on the next. Knowles had edged for a 4. The tale boy got a 2 on the seventh by a long put and was again 2 up. He used a cleik on the two next tees to be sure of direction, winning the eighth, as Peters took three puts. They halved on both the ninth and tenth in par strokes, Peters slicing into the sand trap on each, but making great recoveries with the cleik. On the eleventh Knowles holed from the edge of the green for 2 and was 4 up.

They alternated in wins on the twelfth and thirteenth, but the next two were gained in 4s by Peters, through the better short game. Knowles was still 2 up, and as they halved the next two he had the match on the seventeenth green. They also halved the by hole. The cards:

Knowles was still 2 up, and as they halved the next two he had the match on the seventeenth green. They also halved the by hole.

There was a stirring finish in the final for the president's cup yesterday at the open tournament of the Baltusrol Golf Club. Jerome D. Travers, the amateur champion, won from Max Behr of Morris County, by 2 up and 1 to play, and gained a 75, which equalled the competitive amateur record of the course held previously by Behr and C. J. Sullivan. On the 145 yard third hole Travers drove the green, and then amazed all by taking four puts, but otherwise the game was nearly flawless. Behr was 3 down at the turn, which Travers reached in 37, but coming home the Morristown man played as fast as the champion. When 4 down Behr gained the 464 and 525 yard holes in 45 and won both. Travers had the seventeenth, however, and the match, as Behr pulled the drive and did not reach the green with his second. The card was:

Plainteid, beat F. A. Wright, Baltusrol, 5 up and 4 to play; T. T. Reid, Montclair, beat Howard Giffin, Baltusrol, 3 up and 1 to play.

Final Round—Barrows beat Reid, 1 up.

Third Cup—Semi-final round—J. D. Gordon, South Orange, beat W. L. Garey, Baltusrol, 1 up (uinsteen holes); George Bowley, Deal, beat G. H. Martin, Yountakah, 2 up and 1 to play.

Final Round—Gordon beat Bowley, 2 up and 1 to play.

Fourth Cup—Semi-final round—James A. Tyng, Baltusrol, beat A. B. Lett, Columbia, 4 up and 3 to play; C. B. Storrs, Essex County, beat C. K. B. Wade, Baltusrol, 2 up and 1 to play.

Final Round—Storrs beat Tyng, 1 up.

MONTCLAIR, Oct. 19,—Handicap against.

HUDSON, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The Columbia County Golf Club team defeated the Powelton Club of Newburgh here this afternoon in the Hudson River Golf League series by 20 to 2. The summary:
Hudson—H. B. Wood, 6; W. K. Gillette, 11; W. W. Rice, 3: P. F. Cady, 6; Charles Esseistyn, 6. Total, 30. Newburgh—Gilman P. Tiffany, 6; Murray Shipp, 6; W. B. Hilton, 6; J. S. Taylor, 2; John Smith, 6. Total, 2.

Montclair golfers played a club handicap yesterday with some twenty starters in which 77 was the winning total, made by W. B. Bremner. Playing with a handicap of 12 he made the round of the course in 89. The other leading scores were: A. P. Hornfeck, 87, 9—78; A. B. Brown, 88, 6—80; C. J. Ridgeway, 93, 12—81; C. B. Phyle, 94, 12—82. In the absence of Champion Travers and one or two other of the best players at Baltusrol, Brown's score of 86 was the best gross score made.

Brown's score of 38 was the Dest gross score made.

In the play off of the ties in the fail handicaps yesterday at the Garden City Golf Club there were some interesting finishes. Four were tied for the gross score prize at $2, Arden M. Robbins, H. J. Whigham, Walter J. Travis and Max Behr, the latter having to default on account of the Baltusrol tournament. Travis won the trophy with 78, Robbins doing $4 and Whigham $8.
